A CELEBRATION OF TASMANIAN WHISKY

THE STILL

A VARIETY OF SPACES TO EXPERIENCE

THE STILL

In the heart of Hobart, housed in Argyle Street's iconic old Mercury Print room, The Still is the premier destination for Tasmanian whisky enthusiasts and cocktail lovers.

A retail and tasting room by day meanders into a suave yet comfortable whisky and cocktail lounge experience as the sun sets and the night unfolds. Lose track of time browsing our exceptional and extensive Tasmanian whisky collection, pop in for an impromptu tasting or join a more formal experience. If that all seems like too much work, simply sit back in one of our booths and let us take care of the rest.

The Still is a celebration of Tasmania's world class whisky industry and will showcase and serve some of the most impressive local whiskies from across the state.

The Still is open 7 days a week from midday until late. The versatility of the space allows for intimate cocktail events and tastings up to large scale dinner experiences.

AN HISTORIC LANDMARK LOCATION

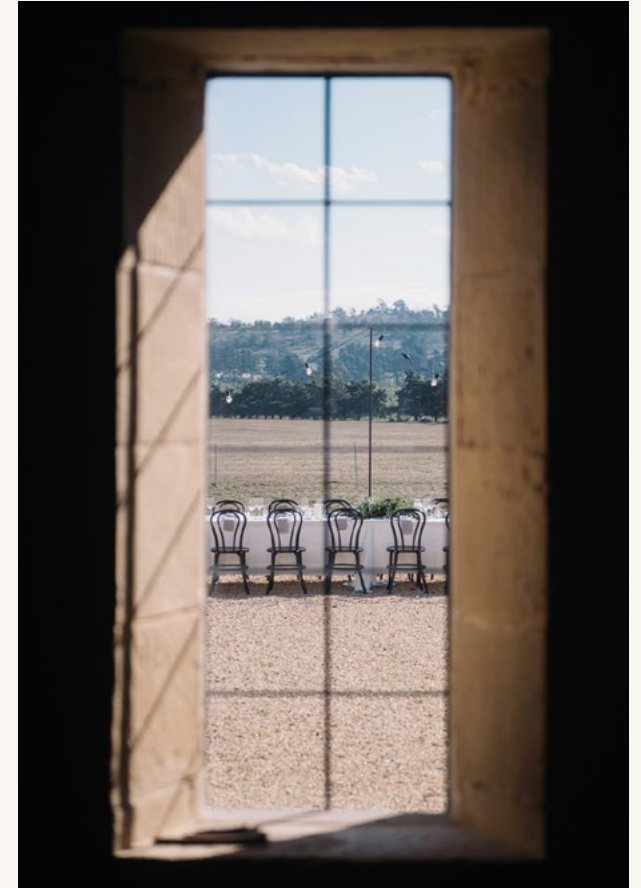

A COLLECTION OF HERITAGE BUILDINGS

LARK DISTILLERY

Thirty minutes north of Hobart, the iconic home of Australia's oldest single malt whisky resides in buildings that date back to the early 1800s. Set amongst these meticulously restored historical buildings is Tasmania's only working whisky village the only distillery in Tasmania to have its own on-site working cooperage. A visit to Lark Distillery is an immersive and unforgettable whisky experience like no other with something for everyone.

Take a tour of the distillery and cooperage and discover the magic of distillation, join us in the cellar door for a tasting and sample Lark whisky or Forty Spotted gin, make a memory to last a lifetime blending your own distinct bottle of single malt whisky or just come and wander the historical property and be inspired by the beauty of the landscape and the architecture.

Open Wednesday - Sunday from 10am, the new Lark Distillery is an unmissable experience for whisky lovers and history buffs and is also the perfect place for a luxurious and unforgettable wedding, event, function, or conference.
